Late Foreign News,

An English soldier, killed by the Maoris recently, was eaten almost all but his head, which was set up on a stick to form a spectacle for derision by the

A Secont Woman.—The old lady known as Mrs. Franklin, widow of Sir John, turns out to be one who is unworthy of the sympathies of Union men and women. She recently entertained a party of Southern sympathizers at her residence. She is said to favor the Confederate cause.

New Coner .- Mr. J. R. Hind writes from Twickenham (England) Observatory. "A comet discovered almost simultaneously by M. Tempel, at Marseilles, and Professor Respighi, at Bologna, on the morning of the 6th August, appears likely to become an object of considerable interest about the middle of August.

Texas.—According to Colton's Atlas, Brazos Santiago, is on the Gulf of Mexico, about ten miles north of the Rio Grande. Bocadel, or Boca del Rio, is at the mouth of the river. Brownsville is on the north bank of the river, about forty miles from its mouth.

Matamoras is about ten miles further up, on the southern bank of the river. Resaca de la Palma is ten miles north of Brownsville.

ROYAL WILL -King William of Wurtemburg has left a rather curious will. " Having hated ceremony all my life," he says in one of the seven brief paragraphs of which the documents consists, "I will not lie in state after death and be gaped at by sightseers and the lovers of etiquette. I beg pardon of idlers for robbing them of a capital opportunity of looking at vain and unmeaning ceremonies. My corpse is to be buried in the presence only of my chaplain, my chamberlain, and the adjutant du jour. My guard will do me the favor to supply an escort for the coffin on its way to Rothenberg. The funeral car is to leave the palace at night to arrive at Rothenberg with the first rays of the sun. A single gun is to be fired at the termination of the funeral."

The art of constructing earthworks has been considerably developed by our civil war. The Richmond papers speak of Butler's works at Bermuda Hundred as marvels of scientific intricacy. They consist of high earthworks, defended by a ditch twelve feet wide and a perfectly impenetrable abattis, the trees and branches composing the latter being thick, interwoven with wire. According to the rebel account, had there been no garrison defending this work it would have taken the rebel troops two hours to get into the intrenchments. Some of Lee's works at Spottsylvania were nearly as formidable, rendered so, chiefly by the ingenuity displayed in the abattis. Grant's works, in the siege of Vicksburg, were wonders of engineering skill.

GCEAN TELEGRAPH .- The New York Herald of the 3d instant says that Mr. Cyrus W. Field has sailed in Her Britannic Majesty's steamer Margarella Slevenson for Trinity Bay, with the purpose of selecting e place for the landing of the Atlantic telegraph cable. This would prove that this long promised and eagerly expected communication between the Old World and the New may be realized ere long. It is stated in the London journals that the new cable is of so superior a make that it will not break. The arm who have constructed the cable guarantee it and take a large amount of stock in the company, thus proving their faith in the enterprise. This cable, if successfully laid, will revolutionize many things. It will undoubtedly tend to promote good will between us and the European communities, and will prevent those misrepresentations which so frequently lead to national difficulties.

ENGLAND TO RECOGNIZE MAXIMILIAN. - In the House of Commons on the 28th July, Mr. Layard, in reply to a question by Mr. Kinglake, enumerated those portions of the States and Territories of Mexico which had been subjected by the army of the French, and those which have not yet acknowledged the authority of the invader. The policy of England had been to recognize the de facto government, the condition being that the government should be in possession of the capital. The Archduke Maximilian was at present in possession of the City of Mexico, and also of a considerable portion of the territory, and her Majesty's Government had intimated to the Government of the Emperor of the French that when the Archduke should be in Mexico, and had notified the fact to the European powers, it was their intention to advise the Queen to recognize him. They would not wait to adopt that course until the main portion of the States and Territories still under the sway of President Junez were brought within the authority of the Archduke.

AN INSOLVENT .- Of the insolvency of J. W. Tucker the San Francisco Argus says:
"Liabilities, $111,933 29. Assets, $9,951 10, exclusive of interests in large quantities of land, and many thousand shares in silver mines, which, however, are ret down as of nominal value. From the petition it appears that Mr. Tucker commenced business June 15, 1854, in debt about $15,-000, since which time he has lost about $175,000 as above, besides $175,000 paid by him for interest, and other expenses. His liabilities include an alleged claim of W. R. Garrison for $48,000, and $5,000 due Thos. J. L. Smiley. This indebtedness to Smiley we do not understand, for the petition states that this amount of money was placed to the credit of Parrott & Co., with Duncan, Sherman & Co., of New York, and delivered by some percon, unknown, to James Stark, (who was a former partner of Mr. Tucker in the mill business.) The petitioner is not aware to whom the money belonged, and explains the transaction to the best of his information. The assets comprise a large number of accounts for goods sold and delivered, the largest in one item being $776, and the smallest, $1 60."

LIBERALITY OF BRITISH CHRISTIANS.—The systematic and liberal efforts of British Christians to extend the gospel to heathen lands, and to diffuse religious truth throughout their own kingdom and over continental Europe, are most commendable. The reports of thirty-six religious societies, whose anniversaries were held in London, in May, show that their receipts have increased over the previous year, and amount in the aggregate to £1,110,470, or over five and a half millions of dollars. The income of the British and Foreign Bible Society was the largest, being $844,000, of which $449,000 were from donations, and $395,000 from sales. The Church Missionary Society was next, being $771,000; and the Wesleyan Missionary Society next, being $670,000; besides $850,000 promised for its great Jubilee fund. Of the 36 societies, the receipts of 8 Foreign Missionary Societies were over $2,594,000; of 8 Home Missionary, $746,000; of 4 Colonial and Continental Missionary sions, $200,000; of 4 Educational Societies, $228,-000; of 3 Jewish Societies, $217,000; and of 8 Misgella neous Societies, $725,000.

THE ESCAPED PRISONERS OF THE KEARSARGE.-A Board of Naval Officers, to whom the matter was referred, have decided that Semmes, and those who esferred, have decided that Semmes, and those who escaped from the Alabama, are prisoners of war. The steamer Mercedata, off Charleston, surrendered to a rebel ram but was not taken possession of, and was actually recaptured by the United States vessels; but her officers and men where considered as prisoners of war, and brought north and exchanged. Semmes escape, by this decision, does not release him from the obligations of a prisoner. He must be exchanged, before he can again assume the offensive, or else he will incur the risk which attends a prisoner who vio-lates his parole. His being considered a prisoner by our Government, gives it, however, no right to ask that Great Britain shall so consider him; nor does it impose any obligation upon that Government to return the priseners to Captain Winslow. The British Government has nothing to do with the matter, as between Semmes and Captain Winslow.

PROGRESS OF REFINEMENT. - The other day, on look-PROGRESS OF REFINEMENT.—The other day, on looking over marriages in a Utica paper, we observed that the name of every bride in the list was made to end in ie, and not one of said names was a proper one, according to old fashion notions, but were nick names, in conformity with the "refined" taste of the day. They were all Carrie, Maggie, Susie, Lizzie, and last of all Mollie, which last we suppose is a corruption of the beautiful name Mary for which the anathema of the Virgin Mary, if she ever pronounces any, ought to fall on those who display such "refined" shallowness.

Judging from the progress in this line, which we have been forced to witness in the past, we may calculate in a few years at the longest, that all the pretty names of women which have stood prominent for centuries in English literature, will be banished entirely from the fashionable part of it. Nick names are not applied to the male sex yet, to much extent, but if things progress the probabilities are ere long we shall see the marriage of Mr. Bubbic Jones and Miss Sissie Smith.—Portland Transcript.

LEE'S HEADQUARTERS .- The Herald's City Point correspondent, writing on the 8th, says: Deserters and prisoners brought in within a day or two, state that Lee has moved his headquarters from Richmond to the neighborhood of Reams's Station on the Weldon Railroad, with the avowed intention of giving battle. If this proves true, we are probably on the eve of another terrific contest. Our preparations for offense and defense are admirable. Lee will have to elect between allowing us to retain occupation of the Weldon Railroad and attacking our entrenched posi-

AN INTERVIEW WITH GEN. GRANT .- A COFFESPORlent of the New York Post gives an interesting secount of a recent interview with Gen. Grant. He

"As soon as salutations had been exchanged I opened my business, referring to the great meeting held in Union Square in June, where I had the honor of speaking, as well as of signing the address which had been prepared and transmitted to him by the National Committee. The sentiment of that meeting. General, I remarked, was to uphold the Union cause and Gen. Grant, even though we that same day had heard of a repulse. 'There is no danger of a permanent repulse, he answered. 'Though seemingly we are taking a great deal of time, yet we are using up the rebel army faster than it can be replenished. It will take more time, but I am fully confident of the result.' The position of our army before Petersburg is one which gives us the advantage. Heretofore the enemy have had the inside, and been able to manage troops so as to secure all the facilities which that position affords. Gen. Grant has now got that interior line, and can throw troops from one point to another, mass them, and employ them to the greatest advan-tage; and the rebel General cannot prevent him. Gen. Lee has found his master."

FORT SUMTER-PROGRESS OF THE BOMBARDMENT -The bombardment of Fort Sumter from the batteries on Cummings Point is being prosecuted with great vigor. The firing thus far has had a marked effect, having exposed to view a considerable portion of the interior of the work. It has been many months since the rebels in Sumter have had a good, therough waking up; but the spell is now broken under the new order of things—a circumstance which has doubtless made a lively impression on the sensi-bilities of the garrison The bombardment is as heavy as any that has yet been directed to the fort. The firing cannot be excelled. Shot succeeding shot strikes squarely at the point aimed at. At almost every discharge down comes a pile of rubbish, while above rises a volume of dust and dirt. When this bembardment was commenced it is believed the fort was as strong as it was before the severe chastisement it received under the direction of General Gilmore. It had become thus strong for the reason that the rebels had been allowed to quietly, uninterruptedly work at repairing damages.

It is admitted that our mortars do fearful excution. The occupants of the fort can, when away from the bomb-proofs, manage to crawl behind a pile of bricks to escape injury from the shots thrown from the guns, but the perpendicular shots discharged from the mortars have no respect for these places of refuge. Since the late bombardment commenced over one hundred have been killed and wounded within the fort. The casualties usually occur while the men are engaged making repairs. Among the recent victims was the late commandant, Captain John Mitchel.

Reliefs are sent to the garrison at night by means of a small steamer which runs down the Sullivan Island side of the channel. By the same means the garrison are supplied with provisions. The small, colorless flag in which the rebels take so much pride can be seen at most all times on the northwest wall. How many times the flag bas been shot away we know not, but we know for a certainty that in a single day it has gone overboard four differ-

As one of the results of the present hombardment, it has been noticed that a complete lane has been plowed through the fort. It is the intention, we understand, to continue the bombardment until it is clearly demonstrated that the work of demolition is fairly accomplished.

HURRICANE AT THE FIJI ISLANDS-LOSS OF THE SHIP " ALL SERENE," WITH 21 PERSONS-OTHER DIS-ASTERS .- By the Melbourne journals of June 3d, received via Callao, we have the following narration of some disasters at sea, which some time ago were briefly alluded to in our columns:

The British ship All Serene, Capt. Myer, sailed from San Francisco for Puget Sound, thence to load with lumber for Sydney, N. S. W. After having completed her loading, she proceeded on her voyage, with passengers and crew numbering 38 in all. When off the Fiji group the ship encountered a heavy squall, which struck her with such violence as to instantly capsized her. The vessel is said to have had such a heavy deck-load on her as to render her totally unequal to surviving such a shock as she met. The most painful part of the narrative, however, is that 21 lives were lost, 13 having perished when the vessel capsized; while 8 more succumbed from exhaustion, produced by the severe privations to which they were educed ere the survivors succeeded in reaching Fig. It appears that those who were saved from drowning remained on the capsized wreck for ten days, and afterwards constructed a raft, on which they were 15 days more, before they finally reached the Fiji Islands. Capt. Myer (who was among those who escaped when the vessel upset) is said to have become deranged after the calamity, and died within tw days from the occurrence. His wife and child, who were on board, were both drowned in the cabin of the ship. The first mate was also lost; and the second mate, who is among those rescued, gives a heartrending account of the sufferings endured by the survivors from exposure. The 17 who were saved arrived in Sydney from the Fiji Islands on the 2d June, by the Retunah. The All

Serene was uninsured. In the hurricane, which appears to have been of considerable range along the Islands, there were three other vessels lost—the Hamburg schooner Chagrette, the Cheetah and the Mechanic, it is feared with all on board.

POLAND.-M. Traugoff, the head of the national government, together with four chiefs of the Department, were hung on the 5th inst. on the glacis of the citadel. The sentence of death on eleven other officials of the national government has been commuted. CONFESENCE OF BISHOPS .- The London Record states that the Archbiship of Canterbury has invited all the prelates of England and Ireland, and such of the colonial bishops as are now in England, to meet at Lambeth Palace on Wednesday next, "to confer on six subjects important to the welfare of the Church, the chief of which are Diocesan Synods, the Burial Service, Subscription to the Articles, and an American proposal to amend the Buglish authorized

The Great Eastern steamship has left Liverpool. in order to take in the Atlantic cable. May she succeed at last, both as to herself and the proprietors, and above all, in effecting a junction, and a speedy intercourse between two hemispheres. This ship since her keel was laid, by material, labor, damages, and partial reconstruction, as well as by being put in service and stations which never paid, has had expended on her, or has helped to expend, a million sterling, the whole of which is lost to the original stockholders.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times states that the French army in Mexico is suffering terribly from casuality and disease. He says: " Probably, a true account of the losses of the French in the field, or by sickness and fatigue, will never be given by the Government. From one specimen which has come to my knowledge we may, however, judge of the rest. A regiment of the Foreign Legion of Algeria landed at Vera Cruz in March, last year, over 1.600 strong, and in less than twelve months it was reduced by fighting and pestilence—and principally by the latter—to 550 men. A company in the same regiment, originally 97 strong, was n six months brought down by the same cause to 20; and in the distribution of the Mexican medals in May last there were but 12 men alive to receive them;

The London Times publishes details of the late disaster to the British troops in New Zealand. It says it was peculiarly disgraceful and perhaps unprecedented. The men were surprised and fled, while nearly all their officers were killed or wounded in heroic efforts to rally them.

Coughs and Colds.

The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PCLMO-MARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS, Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. Sol-diers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.
